Profile

Mr. Jordan has been actively engaged in the practice of architecture for over 30 years. His practice has been highly diversified, covering a wide variety of project types both locally and abroad, and greatly complemented by his construction background. While practicing architecture as a sole proprietor, John was also the owner of a general contracting firm based in Puerto Rico with operations throughout the Caribbean. As consultant to a Central American Payment and Performance firm, he became involved in a multitude of distressed projects helping to identify flawed responsibilities and defective work product and then assisting with the necessary actions to resolve the problems. In recent years, John has also been involved with construction program management and facility condition assessment for a number of multi-million dollar projects. John's architectural project management experience includes institutional (public and private) projects, single and multi-family residential projects and also spans a great variety of commercial and theme park projects. He has extensive project management experience within the leisure and hospitality industry and has been involved with several multi-million dollar retail developments. Mr. Jordan is the President of HHCP Architects P.S.C. in Puerto Rico. On the Island Mr. Jordan has engaged in various high profile design projects in the field of health care & leisure hospitality. Mr. Jordan has a proven ability to successfully orchestrate multi-disciplinary efforts to achieve a goal. This makes Mr. Jordan a valued team member for complex projects that require strong and experienced leadership.
